Seeking Vengeance.

PICKETING GOES ON DESPITE ARMISTICE

regarded at Two Points
But Other Areas Left
Blockade Temporarily.

CHEROKEE, Iowa, Sept. 1.—(AP)—
With the avowed purpose of marching on this city, hundreds of members of the farmers' marketing strike movement late today gathered here, ready to demand that the men who wounded 14 pickets early Wednesday be arrested.

While the farm strike continued at Omaha and in several western Iowa cities despite an official truce, local leaders maintained that some of their members could identify five of the men who shot into a group of men seeking to prevent farm produce from reaching Cherokee.

The Cherokee courthouse was guarded by 75 men armed and deputized by Sheriff Arthur N. Tilton.

One of the holiday workers leaders, Lloyd Sangwin, declared that the pickets did not plan to storm the Cherokee courthouse.

To Demand Arrest.
Others said the farmers, embittered
by the shooting episode, would march into the city and demand the arrest of the men they believe were in automobiles that raced through a picket line and hurled tear gas bombs at the farmers.

County Attorney R. G. Rodman, of Cherokee county, said he telephoned Governor Dan Turner today, and was told that the state would help him if necessary.

Picketing continued around Omaha
on the Nebraska side of the Missouri river and the forces of deputy sheriffs there was increased to 86 as farmers gathered after being dispersed by officers.

Saying they sought to avoid violence,
Milo Reno, national president, and John Chalmers, Iowa president of the Farmers' Holiday Association, which sponsored the four-week-old strike, last night announced at Des Moines that picketing is to be suspended pending a conference of midwestern governors scheduled to be held at Sioux City, Iowa, September 9.

Applies to Iowa.
Regarding the temporary truce,
Chalmers today declared it was called to allow further consolidation of forces in the state, and applied only to Iowa.

He said further that "the battle to obtain the cost of education for the farmers of Iowa and the middle west must and will go on."

However, picketing continued on a reduced scale for at least a part of the day.

New President

SCOTT W. ALLEN.

ALLEN ELECTED HEAD OF ROGERS

Bird Resigns Presidency;
Hunter Phelan, of N. Y.,
New Board Chairman.

Scott W. Allen, chairman of the board, Thursday was elected president of Southern Grocery Stores, Inc., operators of the Rogers group of food stores, to succeed Arthur S. Bird, who resigned. Mr. Allen's place as chairman of the board will be taken by Hunter Phelan, of New York.

The press of personal business,
coupled with the fact that he lately accepted the chairmanship of the Atlanta Community Chest, in which duty he will be in charge of the chest's campaign, forced Mr. Bird to give up the presidency. He will remain in Atlanta, where he came two years ago to become president of the Rogers organization.

Hunter Phelan, Mr. Allen's successor, is president of the National Food Products Corporation and a leading figure in the retail food business of this country. He will move to Atlanta.

Mr. Allen went with the Rogers organization soon after it was organized by L. W. Rogers. At that time it had only three units. Now it has more than 400. The Rogers stores were among the pioneer cash stores of the country.

Following the meeting of the board of directors which occurred on Thursday, Mr. Allen gave out the following statement:

"We regret very much that the pressure of Mr. Bird's time on account of his wide business interests,
and his deep interest in civic affairs, placed him where he desired to be relieved of the burden of directing the affairs of this company. The directors have accepted his resignation with regret and with profound appreciation of what he has done for this company while he has been its head. We have just completed under his management a very successful year and in the light of general business conditions it has been successful to an extent that is to us very gratifying.

The satisfactory situation of the company's business at the present time adds to our regret in losing Mr. Bird, but also makes us realize that he cannot refuse to accept of his resignation. We are very fortunate that he has allowed to give up the heavy burden of his presidency in order to give more time to his own wide business affairs and to his desire to be of greater service to the community as chairman of the Community Chest and in other civic activities.

We are delighted that Hunter Phelan has consented to become chairman of the board and move to Atlanta so as to give all of his time to his duties as an executive of our company. Mr. Phelan is president of National Food Products Corporation of New York, which company is heavily interested in Southern Grocery Stores, Inc., and is moving from New York to Atlanta to assume his new duties. He has for several years been familiar with the affairs of our company and has played a very large part in its management, having been chairman of its executive committee. Mr.
Phelan has had wide experience in large organizations handling food products. We are very fortunate that he will now give all of his time to the Rogers stores."

FRANCE IS SILENT AS GERMANY SEEKS EQUALITY IN ARMS

Steel Helmet Leader In-dorses Move But London Observer Sees Diplomatic Blunder.

By the Associated Press.

An official of the German Steel Helmet veterans' organization yesterday indorsed Germany's latest move to obtain arms equality with other nations as Paris and London government circles declined to comment on the probable position to be taken by their nations.

Colonel Theodore Duestenberg, second chairman of the Steel Helmet, said ex-service men are behind the government's move to obtain arms equality and revision of the Versailles treaty, while a government spokesman reiterated Germany's position that other nations must disarm as Germany has.

The French cabinet discussed in detail an informal communication from Berlin in which Germany asked modification of the Versailles treaty to allow, among other things, an increased army corps, coastal artillery,
a military aviation corps and school for military pilots, construction of forts on frontiers, permission to build material factories and an extension of the navy to include airplane carriers, cruisers and submarines.

After the cabinet meeting no word was given as to the probable stand France will take.

There was little official comment
in London, but the question was raised
as to whether Germany had blundered
diplomatically in her attempt to achieve arms equality.

The Paris newspaper Le Temps said it understood the German request for equality arms was being forwarded to Rome and Washington.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Germany's attempt to free herself from the limitations placed on her armaments by the Versailles treaty was discussed in great detail at a meeting of the cabinet today, but at the conclusion of the session no word was given as to the stand France will take.

Although every member of the government was uncommunicative concerning the representations that have been made by Germany to France, it was understood that the principal points in the German communication were these:

1. Modification of the Versailles treaty and its provision for a 12-year service ban in the German army.
2. Malignment of compulsory military service and the period served by the militia.
3. Reduction for a German army of 300,000 men. The present army numbers about 100,000.
4. Permission for Germany to maintain heavy, light and coastal artillery,
cruisers and submarines.
5. Establishment of a complete military aviation corps.
6. Extension of the German navy
by the addition of airplane carriers,
cruisers and submarines.
7. Sanction for the construction of forts along Germany's frontiers.
8. Permission to build 35 war material factories.
9. It was learned authoritatively that Premier Edouard Herriot refrained from discussing the German action because of the federal funds.

R.F.C. Lends $500,000 To Florida for Relief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—
Florida today received a loan of $500,- 000 from the Reconstruction Corporation to meet emergency relief needs in several counties.

The corporation announcement said
Governor Carlton, of Florida, as chairman of the Florida state advisory council on unemployment relief, would advise the federal funds.

The corporation was informed by the governor that no state funds can be made available for relief work until the Florida legislature meets next April.

Severely depressed conditions were reported to the corporation in lumber, naval stores, tobacco, citrus fruits and in agriculture, particularly in the northern counties where a late freeze was followed by drought.
The corporation did not disclose the conditions in which the funds are to be used.

Denounces Hearing, Quits Job

EX-MAYOR JAMES J. WALKER.

James J. Walker is the fifth mayor of New York to resign from office. The others were Whitehead Hicks, a British subject, who quit in 1776 during the revolutionary war; De Witt Clinton, who resigned in 1815 after three terms "because of violence of party politics"; John Ferguson, successor to Clinton, who left the post in favor of a customs office, and John T. Hoffman, who resigned after being elected governor in 1868.

Walker, Perennially Witty, Is in Reality Serious-Minded

BY TREVOR L. CHRISTIE.
NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—
James J. Walker, as mayor of New York, became "Jimmy" to a large part of the world.

Like all men, he had his flare for attracting headlines. He made himself of the best-known Americans—both here and abroad.

There was little official comment
in London, but the question was raised
as to whether Germany had blundered
diplomatically in her attempt to achieve arms equality.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)— Hanford MacNider's resignation as minister to Canada was accepted by President Hoover and he will plunge immediately into the republican campaign in an effort to round up

DEKALB COUNTIES FORM CRISP CLUB TO GET VETS' VOTE

A letter from Henry T. Rainey, Illinois, democratic leader of the national house of representatives, expressing the sincere hope that Congressman Charles R. Crisp would be elected to senate, was the basis for the formation of the Crisp club in DeKalb county Thursday night.

Rainey, replying to a letter from Henry H. Furlow, of Madison, Ga., said that Congressman Crisp had served the nation and Georgia "honorably, honestly, effectively and with great ability."

Reading of the letter at the De-Kalb organization meeting provoked long applause, due in part to the fact that William Schley Howard, a former member of congress, had been fulsome in his praise of Rainey at a meeting of Russell supporters several days ago.

C. D. McKinney was elected president of the DeKalb club, C. Murphy
Candler Jr., secretary, and Wiley
West, treasurer. Vice presidents announced were: L. T. Y. Nash, Ed Cowan, W. H. Hollingsworth,
Leon O'Neill, Judge John S.

son, R. L. Cooney, James A. Camp-

House Leader Rainey Lauds Crisp As Able, Energetic and Effective

Congressman Charles R. Crisp is recognized as one "of the most able, energetic and effective members of the house" (of representatives) in Washington, Henry T. Rainey, democratic leader of the lower branch of congress, says in a letter to Henry H. Furlow, of Madison, which was read at the DeKalb Crisp meeting Thursday night.

Rainey's letter, in reply to one from Furlow, said:

"Mr. Henry H. Furlow,
"The Madison Insurance Agency,
"Madison, Georgia.

"My dear Mr. Furlow:

"I am in receipt of your communication with reference to the record of Hon. Charles R. Crisp as a member of congress from the state of Georgia.

"I am writing to say that I have been very closely associated with Mr. Crisp during the entire period of his service in the house of representatives. He is recognized as one of the most able, energetic and effective members of the house, and that has been his record during the entire period of his service. I have never known a better parliamentarian than Mr. Crisp. He is perfectly fair and has the confidence of both sides. He has served the state of Georgia honorably, honestly, effectively and with great ability.

"I sincerely hope he will be elected to the senate of the United States, where he can continue in a more important way the very great service he has rendered and is rendering to his state and to his country.

"Very truly yours,
"HENRY T. RAINEY."

RESIGNATION RAPS GOV. ROOSEVELT AND ALBANY TRIAL

Declares Impossible Hope
of Fair Play and Says
All Charges Have Been Disproved.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Mayor
Walker's statement in full follows:
"A letter from my counsel, Mr. John J. Curtin, received today, has caused me to make a momentous decision.
That is whether or not I shall refuse to go again to Albany to further subject myself to an un-American unfair proceeding conducted by Governor Roosevelt against me.

"Three weeks ago I went to Albany with my counsel confident that we would be accorded a fair hearing, conducted in accordance with the rules established under our principles of government.

"My counsel, Mr. Curtin, demanded at the opening of the hearing that the governor summon those witnesses upon whose testimony Mr. Seabury or the governor based the so-called charges against me, in order that I might face them and that my counsel might have an opportunity to cross-examine them. This was denied by the governor. At no time was Mr. Seabury even called upon by the governor to name those witnesses, much less to summon them. As soon as this ruling was made I protested,
but without avail.

Hearing Traversy.
"Day after day during the course of the proceeding it became more and more apparent that I was being subjected to an extraordinary inquisition.

It was not accorded even the elementary rights guaranteed to any defendant in a court of law. Instead of an impartial hearing, the proceeding before the governor developed into a travesty. A mock trial, a proceeding in comparison to which even the practice of a drum-head court-martial seemed a farce.

"Upon my counsel's insistence, the conduct of this proceeding was subjected to the supreme court in order that the validity of the objections of my counsel might be impartially adjudicated. The court decided on Monday of this week that the governor proceeded in excess of jurisdiction and without warrant of law.

Cites Supreme Court.
"(1) By denying me the right to cross-examine the witnesses against me and the law to confront accusing witnesses and cross-examine them and by his treating accusations against me as self-proven without supporting evidence.

"(2) By considering as charges,
upon which he might act adversely,
a group of accusations, most of which involved no wrongdoing in fact, and which concerned alleged incidents occurring prior to my second election to office, over which he has no jurisdiction
under the constitution, the statutes, the decisions of the courts, and the rules of the supreme court.

"(3) By considering as charges,
upon which he might act adversely,
certain incidents involving no element of wrongdoing on my part, relating not only to my official conduct but to my private affairs and the private affairs of others having no official relation with the city of New York.

The supreme court also held that it was without power to restrain the governor or prevent the invasion by him of my legal rights, which legal rights were being invaded.

Three Jurors Charged With Forcing Verdict

Three jurors in a recent civil suit in Superior court were cited for contempt of court Thursday
by Judge E. E. Pomeroy, after G. C.
Gray filed a complaint with the judge alleging that while a member of a jury on the case he was forced to cast a verdict against his will by threats of physical violence.

Gray alleges that on May 27, while a juror in the trial of the case of Sallie Mae Summers versus the Southeastern Railway and the Atlanta Terminal Company in a suit for damages, he was in favor of a verdict for the plaintiff but that the other 11 men were in favor of the defendant. When he refused to agree, he said, three of them threatened him with bodily violence if he did not cast his ballot as they did. He charged his vote only when one removed his coat and seemingly started to attack him, he alleged.

The three jurors cited to appear
September 6 are: D. M. O'Duffie,
H. E. Edwards and F. M. O'Steen.

Clothing Business Reports Substantial Trade Increase

An increase of fully 65 per cent in his business during the past week over the corresponding period last year was reported on Thursday by Joseph A. Loewensohn, manager of the Fogery, a men's clothing store.

"The tendency was especially noticeable in the past two weeks," Loewensohn said. "The tendency was especially noticeable in the past two weeks."

"In the past week our business showed an increase of fully 65 per cent. The increase was strong both in unit sales and dollar volume."

"The better price of cotton is of course behind the general improvement. People have more confidence now and buy more frequently than they have been for some time past."

Succeeds Walker

JOSEPH V. MCKEE.

MCKEE IS VASTLY DIFFERENT TYPE

New Mayor Is Quiet,
Hard Worker and Real Vote Getter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(UP)— Joseph V. McKee, president of the board of aldermen, becomes mayor of New York with the resignation of Mayor James J. Walker.

The popular conception of a New York mayor, imprinted through Mayor Walker's six and a half years in office, is likely to be revised if Mc-Kee remains in office long enough to see his term after January 1, 1933, begin. The flash dress, the dress general gaiety, the traditional tidiness and the wise-cracking will go with Walker.

The crowds that yelled, "You tell us, Jimmy," as Walker sparred with Samuel Seabury in the hearings that preceded the hearing before Governor
Roosevelt will never shout "Attaboy, Mac!"

McKee is a quiet young man who will bear watching, a political writer said when he was named as successor to the board of aldermen. The phrase is still timely, and conveys a very good idea of the kind of a mayor he will make.

McKee is younger than Walker—43—and considerably smaller. Walker always was spectacular. McKee is unassuming. He dresses more conservatively, and his whole air is one of frankness. His face is round, his eyes are blue, and he parts his hair from a high forehead. He is considered by some a plodder.

The mayor's job is not new to him.
Many times he has been in Europe,
or to Bermuda, or traveling elsewhere,
McKee acted as chief executive, swinging the scales of justice and ground for the $60,000,000 Hudson river bridge, or presiding at meetings of the board of estimate.

And as for presiding at meetings,
it's a safe bet that the board of estimate, under his direction, will get its business done although it will lack the sparkle Walker gave it. During all of Walker's term McKee presided over the board of aldermen and completely changed that body from a rough assemblage that frequently broke up in fits and starts to a model of parliamentary propriety.

One of his first innovations was to open the board meetings with prayer, a different clerkman delivering the invocation each time. The Freehinkers' Society protested in vain. Under such influence the physical, and even the verbal, fight disappeared.

Like his political leader, Edward J.
Flynn, democratic boss of the Bronx,
McKee is a graduate of Fordham university. He is a native of New

Crazed Banker Hurls $10,000 From Windows

HAYANA, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Apparently unbalanced mentally, Juan Antonio Gonzalez Armas, a prominent banker of Colon, scattered approximately $10,000 in cash from the windows of his banking house today.

The people indulged in a mad scramble as coins and bills fell into the street in profusion. The banker's friends said he had lamented the economic situation in Colon and deeply felt the needs of his fellow citizens.

POLE'S RESIGNATION AWAITS SUCCESSOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The formal resignation of John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, will be submitted to President Hoover as soon as a successor has been selected.

Although Pole declined the discuss his future plans today, banking circles had a report he had been offered the presidency of the $30,000,000 Fidelity Investment Association at Wheeling, West Va. His friends say he is anxious to take over this position early in the fall.

For eight months, the comptroller has had a request before Mr. Hoover for permission to leave the federal post.

ness largely due to orders from the rural merchant, but few from "the little merchant" who orders only for immediate needs.

William Bernstein, president of a hosiery and underwear company, said deliveries already are retarded and the peak of the season is 30 days ahead.

In every line, the Age-Herald survey showed an increased tempo in business with the increased price of cotton ascribed as the main contributing cause.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS COME FROM TEXTILES

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Encouraging reports today came from various branches of the textile industry in Lawrence. Four of the leading mills reported improvement with substantial increases in the number of workers.

The wood mills of the American Woolen Company reported several departments working night and day with employment at over 6,000. The worsted division of the Pacific mills was manufacturing as much material as during the same period a year ago and was much busier than during the early part of this year. Some of its departments are operating night and day.

The Ayer mills of the American Woolen Company has received rush orders which have necessitated day and night shifts and the placing of other shifts on overtime schedules. The Arlington mills also have several departments working on overtime.

Several plants are now putting in their annual supply of wool and tremendous quantities of the domestic type are being received.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS CO. PLANS BIG CAMPAIGN

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Believing a revival of business has begun, the Sherwin-Williams Company, paint manufacturers, disclosed plans today for a $1,000,000 advertising campaign. President George A. Martin said the advertising will be placed in 2,641 newspapers.

"Encouraging orders from large key industries and railways are simply the forerunner of a pickup through all railroads," Martin said.

RAILROADS TO RECALL WORKERS TO SHOPS

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Plans of two railroads to recall shop workers were disclosed today.

Reading Company will put 2,100 men back to work this month to recondition a large number of cars and locomotives at an estimated cost of $1,200,000. Approximately 475 employees of Delaware, Lackawanna & Western will resume work in that road's shops on September 6.

STEEL AND WIRE WORKS WILL RESUME OPERATION

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Officials of the American Steel & Wire Co. today announced its Newburgh works, closed since July 1, will resume operations Tuesday. Approximately 400 employees will be recalled.

BRIGHT SPOTS SEEN BY THE UNITED PRESS

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(UP)—A 75.4 per cent decrease in bank closing with new and reopened banks outnumbering those closing is reported by Rand-McNally Company in their weekly banking survey.

CHICAGO.—The Illinois Gear and Machine Company reported its Gear & Forging, Inc., and has made substantial additions to its working force.

DETROIT.—Domestic factory shipments to dealers gained 38.3 per cent over July, George M. Graham, vice president of Rockwell Motors Corporation, announced today.

LOS ANGELES.—Transcontinental and Western Air reported a continued upward trend in business today. "Passengers between Los Angeles and New York increased 23 per cent during August," H. M. Beck, traffic manager, said.

PHILADELPHIA.—Charles H. Ewing, president of the Reading Company, announced today that more than 2,100 employees of the railroad in the locomotive and car repair shops will resume work this month.

ST. LOUIS.—Volume of orders received from retail merchants during the past 10 days was the largest for any similar period this year, according to Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company here. August business showed an increase over August of last year, the company reported.

ST. LOUIS.—A "definite upward trend in the building industry here" was reported today by Frank A. Penney, deputy building commissioner. Building permits during August averaged $20,000 a day and on one day reached a total of $67,000, Heuser said.

his main objective" in accepting the ministerial post.

The secretary said MacNider felt his private business affairs needed his personal attention.

G. O. P. STRATEGISTS WILL GATHER AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Henry J. Allen, publicity director for the republican campaign, said after a conference with President Hoover today that there probably would be another meeting of republican leaders with Mr. Hoover before the main drive of the campaign gets under way in mid-September.

In enumerating the republican speakers who will take the president's cause to the country, Allen was asked if Senator Borah, of Idaho, who has broken with the president, would participate.

"We are always open for volunteer service," he replied.

Allen said: "The republican committee will not seek to operate actively in such states as Mississippi, Georgia and Louisiana, conceding them to the democrats."

JAHNKE LAUDS HOOVER

AS SAVIOR OF NATION
WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ernest Lee Jahnke, assistant secretary of the navy, maintained in a speech today that President Hoover preserved the United States from political and economic perils, social disorders and uncontrolled deflation.

Without consideration of political advantage, he has given this country a program for the relief of the distressed and for economic rehabilitation which is without equal in the annals of our country. The manuscript of Jahnke's speech said:

"Its effects are now beginning to be apparent," he continued, "and we are each day seeing new signs of the final resumption of business, commercial and agricultural activity throughout the land."

FRANCE IS SILENT ON GERMAN PLEA

cause he wanted to observe correct usage.

Secrecy was required in the communication received from the Berlin government today. This communication was in the form of an aide-memoire, which is a representation less formal than an official note. A communication issued at the close of the cabinet session said only that the premier had informed his colleagues of the external situation.

The newspaper Le Temps said it understood the German government was forwarding to Washington and Rome communications similar to the one sent France.

Official circles expected the French government to communicate without delay with the interested powers concerning the German move.

GERMANY'S EX-SERVICE MEN SEEK EQUALITY IN ARMAMENT

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Every ex-service man in Germany stands behind the government's efforts to obtain equality in armaments with other nations and to bring about revision of the Versailles treaty, Colonel Theodore Duesterberg, second chairman of the Steel Helmet, war veterans' organization, declared today.

Colonel Duesterberg, who ran for president this spring against Paul von Hindenburg and Adolf Hitler, made this statement in a press interview which served as a curtain-raiser for the Steel Helmet convention, at which 150,000 delegates are representing the membership of 1,000,000 ex-service men.

Meanwhile, a government spokesman reiterated Germany's insistence that other nations must disarm just as Germany has. This spokesman was commenting on the German negotiations for arms equality which have just been initiated with France.

"Germany favors a radical reduction of armaments, but this must be done according to the same principles for all states," the spokesman said. "The measures to be taken by Germany must fall in line with the character and extent of general reduction of armaments."

The official press department denied that the government had sent either a note or a memorandum on the arms subject to France. The French ambassador, it was explained, merely had been provided with a "loose aide memoire."

The Steel Helmet convention had the effect of stealing the spotlight from Hitler. He returned from a brief automobile ride to his quarters in the Kaiserhof hotel and was surprised to find the place lined with men in gray uniforms closely resembling the outfits of the reichswehr.

Frank Seldte, Steel Helmet leader, and Colonel Duesterberg had virtually taken possession of the hotel as convention headquarters. At every door their guards stood at attention. Hitler's brown-shirted storm troops were completely eclipsed in Berlin as train after train brought in World War veterans.

In his press interview, Colonel Duesterberg took a pot shot at Hitler by asserting that the Steel Helmet organization served "no single party or person" and that post-war history

showed no one party could rule Germany

From the beginning, the colonel said, his organization had supported the idea of a cabinet responsible to the president similar to the one that has been established.

QUESTION OF DIPLOMACY IS RAISED IN LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The question whether Germany has blundered diplomatically in her attempt to achieve equality in armaments with other nations was raised in London today.

Official circles, while reticent about commenting, nevertheless recalled that Britain administered a virtual rebuke to Germany on the same issue last July when the disarmament conference was ending.

The British remonstrance concerned the method of approach, not the German basic rights. Count Rudolf Nafolny, Germany's representative at Geneva, declared he could not subscribe to the resolution adopted by the conference just before it adjourned because there was no mention of equality in arms for Germany.

Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, retorted that the resolution dealt merely with the accomplishments of the conference, not with its future program, and advised Germany to wait for the next session.

The squelching was the last British official declaration on the subject. There is no reason to believe the government has changed its views.

U. S. To Probe Taxes Paid by Krenn, Dato

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The government interested itself today in the real estate earnings of Edwin D. Krenn and Edward S. Dato as they invested the millions advanced to them by the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

United States Attorney Dwight H. Green instructed agents of the internal revenue department here to check for payment of income taxes by Krenn and Dato since 1922, the year after Krenn came here from Switzerland with John D. Rockefeller's daughter.

Green expressed particular curiosity about taxes on $1,250,000 which, according to attorneys for Mrs. McCormick, Krenn lent to her in 1929.

Records of the county treasurer's office disclosed today that $33,172 remains to be paid on 1930 taxes on Mrs. McCormick's Lake Shore drive home. Only $5,000 has been paid.

Rain Is Forecast For Atlanta Today

Due to a change in the direction of the storm which has struck the lower part of Mississippi, Alabama and parts of Florida, rain slated to fall in Atlanta Thursday morning was delayed but will reach the city today, according to the forecast by Arthur H. Scott, meteorologist.

In making his forecast, Mr. Scott stated that the weather for the most part will be cloudy, at of Thursday, and that there will be occasional showers. There will be little or no change in the temperature from that of Thursday, when the range of the mercury was from a low of 74 degrees to a maximum of 86 degrees.

Two of his greatest interests are sports and the theater. His friends are innumerable. He has no children. He and his wife keep separate domiciles. He smokes incessantly. He likes serious books. He has written several songs including the well-known "Will You Love Me in December as You Do in May."

His suits, shoes, hats and walking sticks have been numbered in the scores—they probably are exaggerated. His choice of clothes runs to the English form-fitting, pointed lapels, pleated trousers.

He likes shirts in pastel shades, white fedora hats, a peeping handkerchief. Someone has said his only sartorial sin was a too tightly tied necktie—won't let the blood up or down.

Of his future as a wit, he once said: "One wise crack often dooms a serious-minded man eternally to wear the cap and bells."

He is at his best at such impromptu occasions as banquets. With his eyebrows raising quizzically, his forefinger wagging and every feature mobile, he carries his hearers along on a wave of psychology. But he has his serious moments and he can become sorely vexed... as he showed in the progress of his removal case.

Contrary to public belief, Walker is rarely late to state appointments. Week after week he opened board of estimate meetings on the dot. The plethora of engagements made for him often rendered it physically impossible for him to be on time.

Dame rumor, ever mindful of his versatility, has cast him for many roles. At one time or another he has been mentioned for the vice presidency of the United States, for czar of the baseball world, for United States senator, for kingpin of Hollywood, for dictator of Cuba, for arbiter of the dress industry.

TWICE AS CRISP extra nourishing—because SHOT FROM GUNS

why no other cereal appeals like Puffed Wheat and Rice

Remarkable... that such dainty crisp grains can be so richly nourishing! Here's the reason. When grains of wheat and rice are shot from guns, every food cell is broken open. Its contents steam cooked. Made so completely digestible that a single dish of Puffed Wheat or Rice, with top milk and sugar, gives the energy value of a baked potato or a lamb chop!

And now Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice have been made twice as crisp as ever before. Twice as good. Get these extra crisp, extra nourishing grains from your grocer today.

JUDGE TO DECIDE WHAT'S NECESSARY FOR SWANSON HOME

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—(AP)—What furnishings in the Hills home of Gloria Swanson are "necessary?" was the delicate question before Superior Judge E. H. Wilson today. The question arose yesterday during a hearing on a suit brought against the actress by William J. Saylor, Ltd., New York importer, to attach furnishings for alleged failure to pay $6,000 on a promissory note. The applicant said the law allowed Miss Swanson only enough furnishings to make her comfortable. Through her counsel, Miss Swanson, who is in London, said her position in the flicker world necessitated a home that was "tastefully and expensively" furnished. Among the accoutrements cited by the importer as "unnecessary" were a "powder room," a "bar room," an antique 18th century lamp base, and a 17th century map of Paris. Lois Wilson, actress and friend of the star, through an affidavit, asserted those old gilt Medusa masks in Miss Swanson's library and the pair of Angelic Kauffman paintings, as well as sundry things in the bar room were "absolutely necessary." Judge Wilson took the matter under advisement.

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES
by Sally Saver

LATE SUMMER PRESERVES AND PICKLES.

At the first of September it is time to take stock of what things are left in the market which may justifiably be canned or pickled for winter use. The last of the late peaches are still available for canning or conserves, even for a few jars of pickled peaches. There are green tomatoes plenty which ought to be saved from the frost. Cucumbers, squash, late beans, the last of the corn, all of these things call for the attention of the economical housewife.

When culling the poultry, it is a good idea to put some of the non-layers into canned chicken for winter use. There is no commercial canned chicken which begins to compare with properly canned home-made chicken for flavor and texture. The winner of the vegetable prize at the Illinois State Fair in the canning season was a jar of home-canned white meat of chicken. It had been placed in the jar in sections, and processed with some of the delicious yellow fat which makes such good gravy. The jar was a delight to behold, and the flavor was exquisite.

For the benefit of those women who would like to try their hand at home-canning of chicken, here are the directions.

HOME-CANNING OF CHICKEN.
Kill the chicken at least six hours before canning. Remove feathers, bleed well and cool thoroughly. Singe, then wash thoroughly. Draw entrails, remove heart, liver and gizzard and save them. Joint the chicken as for cooking, spread out the washed pieces on a tray or board, and pack them loosely into clean hot glass jars. First place in the drumstick, then a thigh next to it. Now, two wings are placed next to the thigh with the elbow of one wing fitted into the other. Place the neck in center of jar, rib end down. This acts as a support for the remaining pieces and allows the heat to penetrate quickly to center of jar. Do not press down the pieces too compactly. Cover the neck with the back, spread the white meat on top of back. Fit rest of pieces to fill the jar. Soak the liver and gizzard in a bowl of water to prevent discoloration of other pieces.

Add two teaspoons salt to each quart jar of chicken, place the rubber ring on jar, and partly seal it. Process (sterilize) in a hot-water bath for three hours from the time the water in the bath begins to boil hard. Process for three hours or in a steam pressure cooker for 90 minutes at 10 pounds. Remove from canner and seal immediately. Any juices which collect in the jar will become jellied when cold.

Some women prefer to can just the white meat of the chicken, others have had success in canning the liver in pint jars. Or the white meat may be put up in some jars, the dark meats in others, and the giblets in still others. The giblets may be accompanied by gravy-making when the other chicken is opened.

If white meat alone is packed and canned, the bones should be removed before packing the meat into the jars. Pack it in loosely, so that heat may penetrate to center of jar. The time element is more important in canning chicken. Process it for the full three hours from the time the water boils hard, and keep the water boiling hard the whole three hours. The water should come up over the tops of the jars at least an inch. Keep extra water in a teakettle, have it boiling hard, and use to refill the hot water bath as the original water boils away. To partly seal the jars, if using screw-top jars, snap the top bail in place but do not spring the lower ring down. As soon as the chicken is cooked, remove it from the racks in the hot-water bath and seal immediately. Cool where there is no draught.

PICKLED WALNUTS.
One of the surprisingly different relishes served at some fashionable hotels and homes is pickled walnuts. This delicacy has caused many requests for methods of making it. It is simplicity itself to put up pickled walnuts. Gather the walnuts while they are young or soft enough to be pierced with a needle. Soak them in a strong brine for three days. Drain, chop again in cold water for six hours. Drain. Put them in a stone crock.

To a gallon of vinegar add one cup of sugar, two tablespoons each of whole peppercorns and cloves, one tablespoon allspice, eight blades of mace. Boil this mixture 10 minutes, pour it over the walnuts while it is scalding hot, and let them stand three days. Drain off the vinegar syrup, put the nuts in sterilized glass jars, bring the vinegar syrup to a boil, pour it over the nuts and seal the jars. Store them in a cool place. Allow at least six weeks to elapse before using any of them. Serve them as a relish with meats.

One of the more unusual recipes is for elderberry jelly. Because of the nature of elderberries, they need apple juice to make them jelly. Therefore, this fragrant jelly is really a combination of apple and elderberry.

Gather the elderberries before they are too ripe. Wash them and place in a kettle with water not quite sufficient to cover the berries. Cook until soft, let drip overnight in a jelly bag. Do not squeeze the juice out in an effort to hurry things along. To this juice, which will, of course, be very dark in color, add an equal amount of apple juice, which has been extracted over night in the same manner as the elderberry juice. Measure the combined juices, and bring them to a boil. Add one cup of sugar to each quart of juice and one pint of sugar. Stir constantly and boil rapidly until the jelly stage is reached. This will not be long. Test with a spoon, and when the liquid sheets from the edge of the bowl of the spoon, the jelly is done.

This jelly has an unusual flavor. A beautiful, dark red color and an exceptionally fine accompaniment for milder tasting meats, such as chicken, veal and lamb.

LAST-OF-THE-GARDEN PICKLES.
One of the best efforts of our grandmothers has come down to us as last-of-the-garden pickles, and is now almost a staple article in many homes. It is a old-fashioned housewife simply took everything she had left in the garden at the end of the season and made pickles out of it.

For the pickles, choose those who have not had much experience in pickling. Here is a good recipe for this relish.

Soak over night in salt water (1-2 cups salt to one quart water) the following vegetable assortment:

One cup sliced cucumbers, 1 cup chopped sweet peppers, 1 cup chopped cabbage, 1 cup sliced onions, 1 cup chopped green tomatoes.

Next morning prepare and cook these vegetables:

One cup green string beans, 1 cup sliced green beans, 1 cup kidney or other beans.

When these are cooked, add 1 cup chopped carrots, 1 tablespoon celery seed, 1 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons mustard seed, 2 cups vinegar, 2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons turmeric. Boil all of these and the pickle mixture about 10 minutes together for 10 minutes. Pack in sterilized jars and seal immediately. Pack while boiling hot into the sterilized jars.

GRAPES PLENTIFUL FOR JAM AND JELLY
Grocers Report Housewives Buying Them To Stock Cupboards for Winter Use.

Here is real, good news for women who have been putting off their jam and jelly making.

Grapes, which are the most popular of all fruits for jelly, and which are now coming into the markets, are even more plentiful this year than last, according to government figures.

Local grocers today reported that many housewives were already taking advantage of the grape season and the low price of sugar and other ingredients of jam and jelly to stock cupboards which have remained partially empty because of the comparative scarcity of earlier fruits.

A large proportion of housewives, the store-keepers said, are following the short-cut method of jelly making which includes the use of bottled fruit pectin, and which adds as much as half again to the number of glasses from the same amount of fruit.

Atlantan Injured As Auto Overtakes

Mrs. Joe Harwell, of 585 Boulevard place, N. E., was seriously injured near Montgomery, Ala., Thursday when the automobile in which she was traveling alone skidded on the wet pavement and overturned. Mrs. Harwell was en route from Atlanta to Pensacola, Fla., where her husband is connected with an automobile agency.

According to Atlanta friends, Mrs. Harwell left the city Wednesday night on a visit to the Florida city, where her husband has been stationed for the last six weeks. She was taken to St. Margaret's hospital in Montgomery. Physicians said she suffered fractured spine and several broken ribs. Mrs. Harwell had resided in Atlanta one year, previously living in Cordele, Ga.

Council Committee Rejects Plea For City To Buy Police Uniforms

Atlanta policemen, as usual, will buy their own uniforms next winter, the police committee of council decided Thursday night in rejecting a petition of members of the department asking that the city purchase the new uniforms. Members of the committee said that financial stringency of the city will bar purchase of uniforms by the municipality.

Councilman Homer Foster, member of the committee, presented a gold medal to Thomas Koutsois, who held for police a negro who was wounded by Councilman Foster's brother, Detective Frank (Red) Foster, during a gun duel at a Boulevard delicatessen in which Detective Foster was fatally wounded.

Patrolman Eddie Hughes, known in pugilistic circles as Eddie Hanlon, was ordered by the committee to pay $34 a month on debts totaling $4,700, said to have been caused principally by promotion of prize fights. Hanlon was hauled by the committee from future fight promotions.

Patrolman W. H. Dodd was exonerated of a charge of taking money from a prisoner while searching the prisoner at the police station. Dodd will apply for a pension on December 15, he said.

Patrolmen G. O. Carroll, C. E. Ford and R. A. McDaniel were recommended by city physicians for retirement on pensions, but the committee took a prison view of the financial condition of the city.

Members of the committee inspected a new burglar alarm system which was demonstrated.

Doolittle Misses Air Speed Mark By Less Than One Mile an Hour

BY OSCAR LEIDING.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 1.—(AP) The slim margin of less than a mile an hour topped separated America from the world's land speed record. Major James H. Doolittle, flashing four times over a three-kilometer course at the national air races, averaged 282.672 miles an hour—778 mile less than the speed required to break the mark held for eight years by France.

It was the second time in two days that the record escaped the former air corps pilot, an average of 293.193 miles an hour made yesterday having no official standing because of failure to carry a barograph. Riding a brisk wind, he attained his highest speed, 302.016 miles an hour, on his final dash. On the second lap, his average was 301.097 miles an hour.

He paid for this help, however, on the two return journeys, for the wind then blowing almost straight to the nose of the squat red and white racer greatly slackened his speed. The first laps average was 261.834 miles an hour, the slowest of all, and the third lap was 265.774 miles an hour.

He expected that the ship wouldn't be ready for another try for the record until Saturday, due to motor trouble last night, leaving the field open tomorrow to James Wedell, of Patterson, La., and James Haislip, of Ferguson, Mo., trans-nation speed king, to try their mounts over the course.

With the men fastening their eyes on a 300-mile an hour goal, Miss Florence Klingensmith, young Minneapolis flyer, was timed in four laps over the straightaway at 198.611 miles an hour. Her fastest run was 206.549 miles an hour.

Doug Davis, of Atlanta, Ga., only surviving winner of the 100-mile high speed event that later became known as the Thompson trophy race, pushed his blue biplane into first place in a 21-mile race for commercial ships rated at 180 miles an hour.

Davis took an early lead and succeeded in gaining a lap on some of the other entries in six laps. His average speed, 127 miles an hour, about 25 miles an hour under his straightaway speed which was reduced by a standing start.

S. J. Whitman, of Oshkosh, Wis., took the measure of Ben O. Howard, Chicago-Kansas City mail pilot, in a free-for-all race for planes with engines of 350 cubic inch displacement. Whitman averaged 132.246 miles an hour to win $300. Howard averaged 127.347 miles an hour to win $200, and Roger Don Rae, of Cleveland, won third prize money of $120 by averaging 107.724 miles an hour.

Miss Elizabeth Payne Shoots Self to Death

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Sept. 1.—(AP) Miss Elizabeth Payne, 25-year-old daughter of Mayor R. J. Payne, was found fatally wounded by a pistol bullet today in the office where she was employed.

A verdict of suicide was returned tonight by Coroner John E. Cole, who worked with Washington and local detectives in investigating the case.

Miss Payne, a prominent member of society here, died several hours after she was found by Robert Olney lying on the floor. Olney is a business associate. She never regained consciousness.

Coroner Cole said investigation showed that Miss Payne had evidently tested the pistol by firing a shot from the office doorway into the yard. Witnesses said they heard two reports during the lunch hour when the young woman was shot.

A search failed to reveal any note. Friends said she had been in a nervous condition recently.

BONUS VIEWS TABOO TO FEDERAL WORKERS

One U. S. Employee Already Dismissed for Disregarding Rule.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Government employees and their families are prohibited from expressing publicly their views upon the soldiers' bonus under new regulations promulgated by the civil service commission. Chairman Campbell said today this subject had been included in the list of taboo political questions, even though there is no line drawn on it this year between the two major political parties.

While there is always a list of political questions upon which civil service employees are not permitted to argue publicly, a presidential year always brings fresh ones because of the new issues coming to the front.

The bonus ruling has already operated to some extent in bringing the dismissal of Ben H. Kerr, a post-office clerk at Gary, Ind. Arch Coleman, first assistant postmaster-general, said Kerr was discharged because of "repeated delinquencies" in his work, but added that among the charges against him was one reading: "It is also charged that you introduced a bonus resolution at a meeting of the American Legion, Crown Point, Ind., March 6, 1932, contrary to the expressed wishes of the president, who considers such legislation harmful to the country at this time."

ATLANTA HAIRDRESSERS STUDY NEW ORDINANCE

Atlanta members of the Georgia State Association of Beauty Culture met Thursday night in the civic room of the Ansley hotel to acquaint themselves with the recently enacted city ordinance providing that all members engaged in that profession shall be licensed by the state barbers' board.

Approximately 50 members were present. The ordinance was read by Adolph Mitchell, who presided. It also provides for physical examinations of beauticians applying for a license. No action was taken on the new ordinance.

Insurance Protection Is a Duty Owed by Everybody to Family

"Train-auto accident kills five."
"Five killed and two hurt when struck by auto as they were walking along on highway."

These two headlines appeared in Atlanta daily papers on Thursday and it leads to speculation as to whether those who were injured in the ever-mounting accident wave were protected against an abrupt halt of income, and whether the loved ones dependent on them were safeguarded against want.

Are you protected? If not, you are neglecting a simple duty you owe your family. You can get protection of a kind that is needed, cheaply and efficiently.

The Constitution offers you the famous travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago. This insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into that home at the small registration fee of $1 each per policy per year.

The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from the accidents set forth in the policy. All this for only $1 registration fee—just about 2 cents a week.

The policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $150,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policyholders.

This insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

SEVEN STRIKERS HURT BY WORKMAN'S AUTO

HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Seven men were injured, one perhaps seriously, when an employee of the Stehl silk mill drove his automobile into a group of strikers in an attempt to return to work at the mill today.

The driver, Ernest Albertson, was arrested on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and reckless driving. Meanwhile, officials of the mill, where approximately 400 workers are on strike in protest against a wage reduction, posted a notice on the plant bulletin board saying the plant would be closed indefinitely.

UNION HEAD'S RECALL DEMANDED BY MINERS

Illinois Convention Move Opened for Return to Higher Pay Scale.

GILLESPIE, Ill., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Petitions asking for the removal of District President John H. Walker and other officials of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America were presented at the "rank and file" meeting of striking coal diggers which opened here today, but no action was taken by the convention pending checking of the number of signatures.

Union laws require that 51 per cent of the approximately 45,000 union miners of the state sign such petitions before the state officers are subject to recall.

Demands for higher wages, calling for the old basic wage scale of $8.10 a day and 91 cents a ton for hand loaders to replace the recently adopted $5 basic schedule with a tonnage rate of 68 cents, and a six-hour day and five-day week were before the convention, but it appeared unlikely that these demands would be formally approved before tomorrow's session.

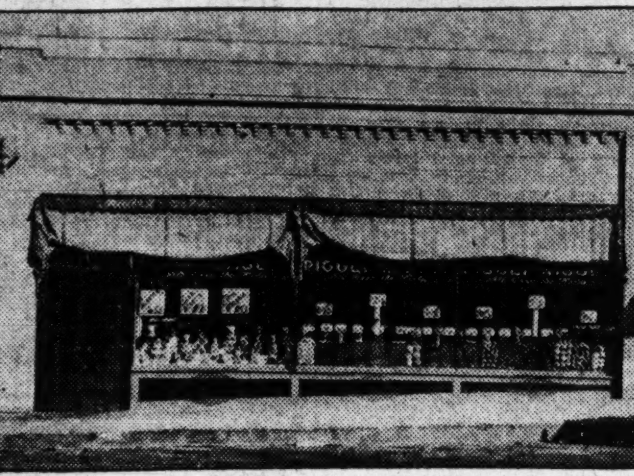

Members of the policy committee of the miners' protest group said 205 delegates from Illinois and 22 from Indiana were participating in the discussions and that they represented 75 per cent of the organized miners in the two states.

B. AND L. LEAGUES WELCOME ADVENT OF HOME LOAN ACT

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Representatives of Building and Loan Associations throughout the nation today joined in a celebration of the recently enacted Federal Home Loan Bank act.

The 40th annual convention of the United States Building and Loan League brought the Building and Loan representatives to this Indiana resort. William E. Best, of Pittsburgh, president of the league, outlined in an address at the opening session the conditions which he said the American public must meet before normal business will return.

He said the building of more small homes, the repair and modernization of homes already built and a realization that the whole system of production is built on thrift and conservation of resources instead of on a lucky chance on fortune's wheel are the conditions to be met.

TALMADGE URGES CUT IN RAIL RATES

Big Banks Rally Applauds Farm Head in Campaign Talk.

HOMER, Ga., Sept. 1.—Eugene Talmadge today spoke to one of the most enthusiastic audiences that has heard him during the campaign. An audience of 1,500 gathered and applauded him when he reached the speaker's platform. Hundreds of cars, wagons and buggies began to come in to Homer early this morning to hear him.

Mr. Talmadge was introduced by A. C. Carson, of Homer. "This year the people are going to elect Talmadge on the first ballot for the politicians will not take control of our government this time," Mr. Carson said. "Eugene Talmadge is the one candidate in Georgia in the last 50 years who has carried out every platform pledge made to the people, and if we judge the future by the past, the constructive platform of Talmadge will prevail on September 14."

There were more people at Homer this morning than have been here at one time in the last 25 years. From far and near the people came, and it was the opinion of the leading citizens of the town that this was the biggest political rally ever held in Banks county.

Talmadge was at his best, and talked with a fervor that brought enthusiasm and prolonged applause. Delegations were here from Jackson, Hall, Habersham, Stephens, Franklin and Madison counties.

There were tears in the eyes of many when Talmadge dramatically exclaimed during the course of his speech: "What I am preaching to you today is not all fun and pleasure, there is sorrow and pain behind what I am saying. There are aching backs and blistered hands, discouraged souls and broken hearts, hungry women and crying children, there are men able and willing to work walking our streets trying to get work with which to obtain food for their loved ones, and yet waste, extravagance and graft still exist at our capitol."

After discussing the other major planks of his platform, Mr. Talmadge said: "I notice in the daily papers that various candidates are advising each other to come out of the race. They are suggesting certain combinations in order to defeat the will of the people in this next election."

"What these candidates are really up against is the constructive platform I advocate. They are against the reduction of taxes, which is so necessary to the welfare of the state. They are against the abolishment of the waste and extravagance in the state capitol. They are against giving the drugstores of our state any relief from the enormous nuisance taxes under which they labor. They are against taking the board of health out of politics. They are against any equalization of taxes. They are against taxing the invisible property so as to reduce taxes on visible property, which is already carrying the burden. They are against these constructive measures which I advocate and which mean so much to the prosperity of the state."

"Be deceived, my countrymen, the people once and for all are going to cast a mighty ballot for these constructive measures, which will benefit the farmers and the workmen and at the same time assure the business interests of the state that no radical and destructive legislation will further stifle business interests and make it unprofitable for the investing public."

"My platform is clean-cut and constructive. Relieve our tax-burdened people of some of the high taxes cut out waste, graft and corruption in our state government. Relieve the drugstores of some of their nuisance taxes, and take the board of health out of politics where the last legislature put it, thereby setting back the public health of our state more than thirty years."

"Reduce the high wartime freight and passenger rates in line with other commodities and give the railroads fair competition with trucks and busses so that both the railroads and the trucks and busses will pay their fair proportion of taxes."

"The politicians, special interests and combinations want to defeat these issues at the polls, and it is my platform that is causing so much consternation among the politicians and special interests of this state, which explains the desperate effort they are making to combine so that the high offices will be bartered between them and thus defeat the will of the people."

TALMADGE SPEAKS TO LARGE CROWD

CLEVELAND, Ga., Sept. 1.—Eugene Talmadge spoke here to a very enthusiastic crowd estimated at 1,500 people. The meeting was advertised to be held at the courthouse, but the crowd could not begin to get in, and it was decided to hold the meeting in the high school auditorium which was larger.

Talmadge was introduced by Judge Gus Dorsey, ordinary from White county, who stated that he considered it quite an honor to be called upon to introduce the man who was certain to be Georgia's next governor.

Mr. Talmadge was given big applause. There were delegations from Hall, Habersham, Union and Lumpkin counties.

SECURITIES ISSUE TERMED MALICIOUS BY JOHN B. WILSON

John B. Wilson, secretary of state, Thursday said that "what little fight is being made against it had its birth among and is practically limited to a group of crooks, racketeers and city slickers here in Atlanta who are sore to the bone because I refused to issue them a license to sell securities."

Wilson, in a statement, said: "When there is a nigger in the woodpile his woolly head will finally show itself and the truth come to light."

"Just as I predicted publicly a few days ago, false and malicious statements are already being whispered around. Dying men grasp at straws and this is expected in their plight of desperation."

WALL URGES MOVE TO REHABILITATE FARMS IN GEORGIA

J. Oscar Wall, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, in a statement Thursday said it was entirely without reason for every Georgia city to be a "dead end" for the farmer.

While thousands of Georgia farms were without tenants, Wall said, "It is well enough," Wall said, "to say that the farmers have left the farms because they were starved out. They were starved out because they had no adequate marketing system. I offer, and have explained in a huge political platform, a plan that will afford a cash market."

Business interests of the state that no radical and destructive legislation will further stifle business interests and make it unprofitable for the investing public.

"My platform is clean-cut and constructive. Relieve our tax-burdened people of some of the high taxes cut out waste, graft and corruption in our state government. Relieve the drugstores of some of their nuisance taxes, and take the board of health out of politics where the last legislature put it, thereby setting back the public health of our state more than thirty years."

McELREATH PLEDGES EFFORTS TO REDUCE GOVERNMENT COST

Business men generally are rallying to the support of Walter McElreath's campaign for congressman from the fourth district. It was announced from the McElreath headquarters Thursday.

Thursday night at the Ella W. Smilie school, McElreath addressed a group of fourth ward voters. He pledged himself, if elected, "to drastically reduce the cost of government, to reduce the number and size of the bureaus, and of all of the expenses of government in every way that can be done without curtailment of efficiency in absolutely necessary services; to reduce taxes and to draft more equitable, just and sound tax laws; to eliminate congressional logrolling and pork-barrel legislation; to stimulate foreign trade through the removal of some of the present tariff barriers, but not at the expense of American labor or the American standard of living; to keep the government just as far as possible out of competition with private business; to stimulate international friendships by not to cancel war debts; to reduce the armaments of the world but not to reduce our own armaments or fortifications, or the army and navy below what is necessary for the securing of our country against invasion and the protection of our outlying possessions, until other nations reduce their own military and naval structures; to re-submit the 18th amendment to the vote of the people and to promote the just cause of war veterans."

CRISP ASSAILED ON POWER ISSUE

Russell Charges Congressman Backed Plan for Shift in Tax.

ROCHELLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Reading excerpts from the bulletin of the National Popular Government League, describing how the electricity tax was shifted from the power companies to the consumers by Congressman Charles R. Crisp, Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., today centered his fight on Congressman Crisp on the power trust issue.

The governor was speaking in a county which adjoins the home county of his opponent. He read the following from the bulletin:

"The tax on electricity inserted in the new revenue act is an astonishing revelation of the power of the power trust. The senate adopted the Howell amendment, placing the electric tax on the power companies and exempting public plants from payment of the tax. But when the measure went to conference committee it was shifted to the consumers, and publicly owned plants were included in those who must pay, while the power companies themselves were exempted from paying any tax on current they used themselves."

Indignation in Congress.

"Indignation broke loose on both sides of congress, and the members were compelled to submit to the action of the conferees or reject the entire bill which President Hoover was waiting to sign. Senator Reed Smoot stated that he had agreed to the change to save some power plant in Utah from bankruptcy, and Congressman Crisp, of Georgia, finally admitted his responsibility for the change."

"At the time the bill was in conference President Arkwright, of the Georgia Power Company, former president of the National Electric Association, conferred with Congressman Crisp, Crisp county, in Georgia, named for the father of Congressman Crisp, gained nation-wide fame for the fight it made against the power trust for the preservation of a publicly owned plant. Yet Mr. Crisp put a tax upon this Crisp county plant and exempted from payment the companies operated by the trust."

The governor ridiculed the claim of Mr. Crisp's managers that it is Governor Russell who is the candidate of the power trust. He asserted that: "Nobody can point to an act of mine that saved the power trust from $50,000,000 to $125,000,000 as Mr. Crisp did."

Reviews Record.

"I have kept up with the affairs of the Georgia Power Company like he has. In fact, I did not know that three of my sisters had inherited some stock in the old Gate City Electric Company, a predecessor of the Georgia Power Company, until Mr. Crisp made it public from the records of the company which are at his disposal in this campaign. I thought my aunt gave my youngest sister all six of the shares of stock she owned when she died, but I find that she gave three of the girls two shares each. I am just sorry it was not 10,000 shares because the Georgia Power Company is certainly making more money than any other industry in this state."

He reviewed his record as governor, citing a number of reforms, including the reorganization of state departments, the new law that will allow a person to vote on payment of poll tax only, the constitutional amendment that if adopted, will end the term of governor on January 1 instead of in June, and reduction in the state deficit.

SENATE POST SALE LAID TO RUSSELL

Political Hopes Figured
in Appointment, Crisp Backer Charges.

THOMASTON, Ga., Sept. 1.—(P)—The failure of Governor Russell to appoint Mr. W. J. Harris to the seat he late husband left vacant in the United States senate, Colonel John H. McGhee, prominent attorney for Upson county, made the charge that the governor "absolutely sold the senatorial appointment across the political court of the state."

Addressing a audience that overflowed the county courthouse to hear Representative Charles R. Crisp speak in the interest of his candidacy for the senate, the Thomaston man hurled at the youthful state executive a charge he said "has long before the election and she deserved the honor."

"But political ambition overruled what public justice demanded and the governor absolutely sold the appointment over the political center of the state," Senator Crisp was appointed on the expressed promise he would not offer for re-election."

"The governor of Georgia has so forgotten himself," he said, "that he has permitted himself to go all over the state assailing the character of a man whose reputation for honesty and clean dealing extends throughout the United States. Is it possible that we have come to a point where a man can spend his life building up a character only to have it destroyed by

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinnily underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes a lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat, and her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she had lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way."

"I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which a year ago were bust 40, hips 43, waist 33 inches which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen Salts. I do not take any other medicine."

(Mrs.) S. R. London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a few cents and is really every morning. When the jar is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—eat light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar."

But remember this: to take off fat harmlessly and RAPIDLY, be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Jacobs Pharmacy, Co. DeWitt agent, Thordill Pharmacy, Haverhill agent, Chapman Drug Co., College Park agent, Chapman Drug Co., Point agent, Christian's Pharmacy, or any drug store in the world, and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not feel satisfied—why money back—(adv.)

WILLIAM OLDKNOW CRITICALLY ILL IN MANCHESTER, ENG.

William Oldknow, Atlanta capitalist and one of the leading figures in film exchange circles for many years, is critically ill at Manchester, England, it became known here Thursday.

Mr. Oldknow, who retired from active business about six years ago, went to England last June. His health has been bad for a number of years.

Refers to "Forgotten Man."

The veteran Georgia congressman in his address referred to the now famous "forgotten man" speech of Governor Franklin Roosevelt, the democratic presidential nominee, and declared that the New York executive in the expected event he is elected to the presidency will have his full support on all legislation to give opportunity in the United States.

"Governor Roosevelt's 'forgotten man' lives in Georgia no less than in other states of the country," he asserted, "and I venture the statement that many of the tax-burdened people of Georgia feel that they have been forgotten by the Russell administration in its disregard of promises made by my opponent as it is not federal taxes that are burdening the people, but state, county and city taxes. Not a single home in a single farm in Georgia has been sold on account of federal taxes. I wish I could say as much for the county and city taxes. Since 1919 the expenses of Georgia have increased from $9,000,000 to $41,000,000, a much greater increase than federal expenditures which such items as education, law, debts and military expenditures, none of which enter into Georgia's budget, are eliminated."

The speech of Judge Crisp at Thomaston was his second of the day. This morning he addressed a gathering of Butts county citizens at Jackson. Enthusiastic audiences greeted him at both places, and here at Thomaston the courtroom was filled beyond capacity.

His appearance at Jackson was not scheduled until yesterday, but a well-filled courtroom was on hand to hear him nevertheless. Impartial observers in the city give him Butts county by a comfortable majority, while his supporters say he will carry it two to one over his opponent. As an indication of Crisp sentiment in the county a secret poll was recently taken in a drugstore where a ballot box was maintained for several days. The count was 200 for Crisp, 60 for Russell.

Here in Upson county the contest appears less one-sided, but Crisp leaders are not at all worried over their ability to show a majority when the final count is made.

Power Charges Denounced.

Pressing his attack on the governor for what he described as an attempt to make an issue of the power companies and the electric power tax, Judge Crisp referred to the state executive caustically on some of his own taxes paid through the Georgia legislature.

"My opponent," he said, "in his journeying over the state asks everybody to think of Crisp when they turn on their electric lights. Well, that's all right if every time you crank up your Ford and every time you light your kerosene lamp you will think of the Russell six-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax and his tax of one cent per gallon on kerosene."

The average tax bill on the consumers of electricity is nine cents per month. But if your tank holds ten gallons of gasoline you pay 60 cents tax every time you have it filled, and that is equal to six months' tax on your light bill."

Denouncing the governor's attempt to make him out a tool of big industrial and power companies, Judge Crisp said that feeling, told his Butts county audience that if the Russell charges had been true he would have been sending 20 years in Congress without feathering his nest.

Says He Is Poor Man.

"For nearly 20 years," he said, "I have been in the public service, devoting my time to that and that alone. If half the governor says about me were true, isn't it reasonable to believe I would have feathered my nest from fat salaries granted as alleged big interests? I haven't gotten a thing out of it, have never made any effort to make money. I am a poor man today with nothing to show for it. Nothing that comes from serving my state and my country to the best of my ability. Such character as I have tried to build for myself by way of recompense he would destroy with his unfounded, malicious and utterly false attacks."

William Huddleston, chairman of the Butts county board of education and a prominent businessman of this section of the state, sounded a new key in introducing Judge Crisp at Jackson, appealing to the patriotism

and this summer he expressed the desire to see his sister and other relatives in England once again.

He was accompanied to England by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Oscar Oldknow. Last week Mrs. Oldknow called her husband, who was then in Dallas, that his father was in critical condition and advising him to come at once. Oscar Oldknow went to New York by plane immediately and sailed from that port last Saturday. No word has since been received from friends here.

William Oldknow was a leading figure in the development of Atlanta as the central distributing point for the southeast in the motion picture industry. For many years he operated the Consolidated Theater and Supply Company, later selling this office out to Universal Pictures Corporation, for whom he became district manager for the south, with offices here.

Later Mr. Oldknow retired from Universal and organized the Southern States Film Exchange, which he sold to Columbia Pictures Corporation at the time of his retirement about six years ago.

He was active in real estate developments on Walton street, where most of the film distribution office is located, and owned several valuable properties there.

BURCH FINISHES 11-COUNTY TOUR AT COMMERCE, GA.

Finishing up a tour of 11 counties in south Georgia, R. E. Burch, Jr., of Eastman, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, will speak Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Lawrenceville and again at 4:30 at Commerce.

Burch said in a statement Thursday that he has found much interest among the voters in his race, and has been pleased to note that his plan to assist in the co-ordination of marketing effort in all communities through the department of agriculture is being well received.

"I proposed," he said, "if elected, and I am sure I will be, to urge every civic club and organization in each community to join hands in aiding the farmers in marketing their products," he said.

COX SAYS BUSINESS TREND IS SHOWN IN COLLEGE GAINS

The greatest registration in history at Emory university and other Atlanta colleges reflects improved business conditions, according to Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory. The recent tendency to delay making definite reservations because of the uncertainty of obtaining funds has been succeeded by a rush of applicants since the middle of August, indicating that students and their parents have been encouraged by the improvement in business to go ahead with plans for college attendance, Dr. Cox said.

Dr. Cox urged every boy and girl who normally would attend college this fall to endeavor to do so, pointing out that students beginning the four-year course now can reasonably expect to graduate at a time when their services will be in demand. He believed that the depression has made people generally more aware of the real and enduring values in education, and that it has called attention to the fact that they have in their own city three institutions approved by the American Association of Universities, which make it unnecessary for students to go elsewhere for a high quality of college or professional training, Dr. Cox said.

Emory is doing all in its power to assist students already in college to complete the prescribed course, and in the case of new students, the university is unable to make loans until they have completed one quarter's work satisfactorily, but the school is advising those who have funds for the first quarter's expenses to register in September so that they will be eligible for aid after Christmas if they still need it, he said.

Dykes Denies Part In Nix's Campaign

W. W. Dykes, one of the campaign managers for Congressman Charles R. Crisp in the latter's race for the United States senate, said that he was not a member of the reception committee which greeted Abit Nix, candidate for governor, in Americus, Wednesday. A dispatch from Americus included Dykes' name as a member of the committee.

"The inclusion of my name in the list of members of the steering committee which greeted Nix," Abit Nix at Americus, my home town, on Wednesday was, presumably, due to an error on the part of the correspondent there. I was in Atlanta and, besides, I am taking no part in any race except that of Congressman Charles R. Crisp for the United States senate."

Crisp Women Backers To Meet Here Today

Women supporters of the candidacy of Congressman Charles R. Crisp for senator will hold a mammoth rally at 10 o'clock this morning at room 613 Healey building, it was announced Thursday by Mrs. R. L. Cooney, chairman of the Fulton County Crisp-Senator Women's Club. Mrs. Cooney urged those attending to bring their friends as plans for the active drive will be laid.

U. S. FRANCE NEARING AGREEMENT ON TREATY

PARIS, Sept. 1.—(UP)—United States and French representatives were threatened with a deadlock tonight in negotiations for a new commercial treaty, but they agreed on a plan of procedure which may permit progress toward a temporary agreement.

The deadlock threatened in connection with the French demand for the granting of tariff favors for French products shipped to America, in return for granting of most favored nation status to the United States. The Americans promised that efforts would be made to change the copyright law to protect French dress-makers against so-called style pirates, and that the United States might change the enforcement of the drug act in favor of French medicines, which are now barred because of high alcoholic content.

These offers, however, did not appear to satisfy the French representatives, but it was decided that each side would soon submit written offers of reciprocity within the limits of the existing tariff legislation.

NIX FULTON COUNTY CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Frank Carter Elected Chairman of Group; Five Other Clubs Reported.

Officers of the Fulton County Nix-for-Governor Club were announced Thursday following a meeting of his supporters here.

Frank Carter was chosen chairman and John J. Woodside Jr., Harry E. Harman and Ward Wight as vice presidents. Emory Groover was elected secretary and the following members of the executive committee were named:

R. H. Jones Jr., chairman; W. P. Anderson, C. C. Crawford, R. L. Foreman Jr., Henry Grady Jr., Julian M. Harrison, George W. McCarty Jr., H. W. Rohrer and W. Henry Smith.

A statement issued said: "The people are turning to Nix as the winning candidate, expecting by his election to end factionalism in Georgia politics."

NIX ATTACKS POLITICIANS IN SPEECH AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 1.—(P)—A candidate for governor of Georgia is now demanding that I withdraw from the race because I am defeating him." Abit Nix said here to a crowd of Muscogee county citizens tonight.

Nix referred to the contention of one of his opponents that he is a "babe in the woods" with the declaration that the "professional politicians in Georgia have had their opportunity to serve the state, and the net result of their tenure of office is a state deficit of approximately $9,000,000, and steadily mounting taxes. Is it not time that the so-called 'babe in the woods' be given a hand at the job which the men who boast of their 'experience' have bungled?"

"The assumption," said Nix, "of professional politicians that they have exclusive rights to hold public office in Georgia will be overwhelmingly rebuffed at the polls on September 14. I entered this race because I, as thousands of fellow Georgians, have grown tired of the mismanagement of our affairs by the men who claim 'experience' in politics. Thousands of parents of Georgia boys and girls are supporting my candidacy because they know if the people rebuke politicians and their tactics, the youth of this state will look toward careers of public usefulness without having to lower their standards one inch, and with confidence in the ability of the people to readily detect a political opportunism which is based upon fear and would influence people to vote against candidates instead for 'for' candidates. Our state government will never recover from the effects of the reign of professional politicians, unless the people adopt a positive attitude—and they people very well know it."

WOULD-BE KIDNAPERS BALKED IN LOUISIANA

PONCHATOULA, La., Sept. 1.—(P)—A posse of several hundred armed citizens today scoured wooded sections of Tangipahoa parish near Springfield, for two men who early this morning made unsuccessful attempts to abduct W. E. Mount, president of the Merchants and Farmers' bank of Ponchatoula, and Mount's two small daughters.

The two were frightened away in both attempts and fled through Springfield, emptying their pistols in the streets before abandoning their car and taking to the woods to avoid capture by pursuing automobiles.

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT IN CHICAGO EXPLOSION

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(P)—An explosion which police believed to have been incendiary wrecked a two-story building on the near west side early today, killed an unidentified man, injured two girls sleeping in their home nearby, and caused damage estimated at $20,000.

There was no clue to the explosion. Police said it might have been a dynamite bomb or might have resulted from an accumulation of gas.

MENCKEN SHOWN AS IDEAL HUSBAND BY HERGESHEIMER

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(P)—H. L. Mencken, once known as a confirmed bachelor, has become "the ideal husband of the western hemisphere," in the opinion of Joseph Hergesheimer, who sailed today for Europe.

Hergesheimer had just returned from a visit to Mencken's home in Baltimore, where the critic's second wedding anniversary was being celebrated.

"Henry has turned into an ideal married man," said the novelist. "All the virtues he kept hidden for so long have now burst into bloom like spring flowers."

"He is at all times in a divine humor and has become the ideal husband of the western hemisphere, the western civilization. He has the best manners of any man I know."

HOOVER TO RETURN TO RAPIDAN CAMP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(P)—President Hoover will leave tomorrow afternoon, having left his longest vacations of the year at the Rapidan mountain camp.

Mrs. Hoover and a small group of companions left the White House by motor about noon today.

The president plans to remain at the mountain retreat until after Labor day, returning to his desk Tuesday morning.

CHICAGO POLICE SEEK NEGRO FOR MURDER

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(P)—Police were searching today for a negro bandit reported by Mrs. Vera Corbett Davis, 28, to have attacked her after killing her resort, James Egan, 28-year-old huckster.

Mrs. Davis, who is estranged from her husband, said she and Egan were riding in his automobile on the south side last night when the negro jumped on the running board and, with pistol pressed against Egan's back, ordered him to drive to a nearby vacant tract of land. He then forced the couple out of the car, Mrs. Davis said, and without further word shot Egan in the back after attacking her. Mrs. Davis said, the negro seized her pocketbook and fled.

KELLEY ASSAILS TALMADGE RECORD

Accuses Foe of Extravagance in Talk at Auditorium Here.

Fire of John I. Kelley Thursday night centered principally on Eugene Talmadge, an opponent in the race for governor, as Kelley assailed charges of waste and extravagant expense accounts in a lengthy attack on Talmadge's record. Kelley spoke at the Atlanta Voters Forum in a non-partisan meeting.

Other speakers included Solicitor-General John A. Borkin, Secretary of State John B. Wilson, Representative Luther Still, Madison Bell, candidate for comptroller-general; J. K. Jordan, speaking for the Georgia governmental machinery, and Joe Hill Smith, candidate for congress. A statement from Comptroller-General William B. Harrison was read by the chairman, Councilman Parks Rusk.

Referring only briefly to the Tom Hardwick-John Holder "Kyrrock" charges, Kelley reviewed Hardwick's alleged endorsement of a patent medicine, and said that Hardwick, when governor, "got Georgia out of debt by borrowing money on the state-owned railroad bonds."

"We need men for public office who have a high conception of citizenship," Kelley said. The assistant attorney-general said that if many of the laws passed for special interests were written off the statute books, there would be no change of having permanent prosperity. He assailed the high cost of government, and told the audience that he offered the first bill to simplify the Georgia governmental machinery, but that opposition to such a move at that time was too strong to be overcome.

"Creation of the legal department of the state has saved money for Georgia," Kelley said, answering Hardwick. Kelley said that previously the state employed more than 30 lawyers to handle its legal business at a cost of $137,000 a year. The business is now handled by seven men at a cost of $33,000, he said.

Solicitor-General John A. Borkin reviewed his record of 15 1/2 years in office and declared that he does not believe that he will "be crucified because I have done my duty." Borkin said that the gratitude of the people for his eternal fight to keep Atlanta clean is piling up in his support, and that he confidently expects re-election by a large margin. Although the meeting was open to all candidates as a non-partisan gathering, his opponent, William G. McRae, did not appear.

Secretary of State John B. Wilson, who seeks re-election, said that he has reduced the expenses of his office and pledged further economies. Congressman Robert Ramspeck said that he is just as much a citizen of Atlanta as is Walter McRae, his opponent, because "both of us have offices in the city and I live as close to Five Points as he does. The main difference between us is that I have not meddled in city of Atlanta affairs, but he has on numerous occasions undertaken to tell the people of Atlanta how to run their business."

Smaller Cash Crops, More Feed Reported

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Smaller cash crops and relatively large feed crops were pictured today by the agriculture department as important factors in the current farm situation.

Estimates for August placed the average of crop yield per acre at 6.5 per cent less than a year ago and 4.6 per cent under the ten-year average. Wheat, flax, buckwheat, hay, apples, peaches, tobacco and cotton were listed as among the major crops likely to produce less than an average total output. Relatively large crops included corn, barley and sweet potatoes, while oats and potatoes were estimated as about average crops.

Brew Bottle Explodes, Patrolman's Face Cut

Patrolman Bill Holland, of the police department, was severely cut about the face Thursday night when a bottle of home brew, captured in a raid of a house at 308 Butler street, exploded in his hand, according to reports at Grady hospital, where he was taken for treatment. Rufus Wilson, 36-year-old negro, admitted ownership of the 40 bottles of brew found and was placed in jail. The illicit beverage was hidden under a trap door in the floor.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, massage or candy. Gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your back aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile down freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

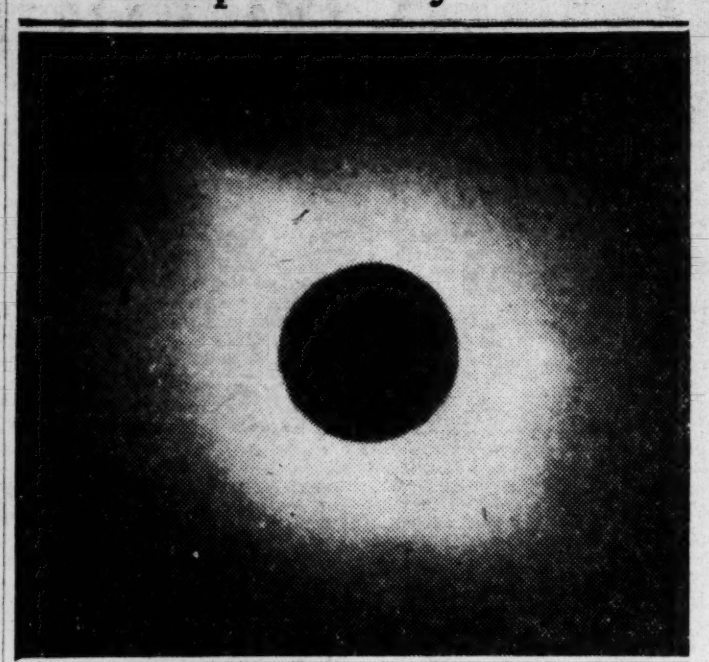

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remedy a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Lateness of Moon's Arrival Is Explained by Observers

Here is the climax of the best show put on by the solar system's two star performers—the eclipse of the sun, near Conway, N. H., 3:28 p. m., eastern standard time, August 31. Associated Press photo.

CONWAY, N. H., Sept. 1.—(AP)—L. J. Comrie, superintendent of the Nautical Almanac, the Royal Naval College, of London, England, who made the first rigorous calculations of yesterday's solar eclipse, said today there were at least two general causes for the reported lateness of totality. Comrie, who spends a large part of his time calculating eclipses, emphasized in the first place that predictions were based on the theoretical assumption that the moon is round and, in consequence, an average diameter is used in the calculations.

"In actual fact, the edge of the moon," he said, "is mountainous in shape, and the lower levels represented by what we call seas or maria."

"These irregularities in the limb of the moon render extremely accurate prediction impossible. The margin of uncertainty due to this cause alone is usually stated as plus or minus one second."

"This phenomenon, which we call Bailey's beads, makes the beginning of an eclipse very difficult to define, since you may be timing it from the lowest valley."

"Another cause of uncertainty in prediction is the limitation of accuracy of our knowledge of the position of the sun and the moon. We cannot be sure of the relative positions of the two bodies in advance to within one-half a second of arc. The effect of that uncertainty again is about one second either way."

"The combined effect of the two causes might be as much as two seconds either way, although I do not think it could be greater unless the estimates had been based on comparatively old calculations. A greater error might have been possible unless the revised prediction issued a few weeks ago were utilized, but I do not think it likely astronomers have failed to take advantage of the more recent figures."

Comrie is regarded as one of the greatest authorities in the world in mathematics of eclipses. But he failed to see the eclipse whose path he charted in August, 1927. In general with astronomers here, he saw only the faint outlines of the inner corona through a blanket of clouds.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY IN RADIO ACCOMPLISHED

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 1.—(AP)—One important radio discovery and several new scientific feats summed up today the accomplishments of the 32 total eclipse expeditions. Clouds completely ruined the work of more than half the largest expeditions, but a few had perfect views.

The radio discovery throws new light on the invisible layer of electrified air—the Kennelly-Heaviside layer—which reflects radio waves back to earth. As the sun passed completely from sight, radio reception on special set-up changed abruptly to sunset conditions.

When the sun reappeared, the radio reception changed back to daytime conditions, as it does at sunrise. The layer apparently had been forced down closer to earth.

R. C. Williams, of Cornell, forthwith made the first test of a new process he developed recently with G. B. Sabine, of Cornell. He evaporated chromium to produce a special mirror for observing spectroscopically the invisible ultra-violet light from the corona.

Japanese Successful.
Fate was kindest of all to the Japanese expedition from the Tokyo imperial observatory, under Professor Okuroh Oikawa. They came the longest distance of any expedition and selected Bartlett, N. H., for their site. Delayed in reaching Bartlett, they settled down at Alfred, Maine. There the seeing was perfect, while Bartlett was in the middle of the cloudy belt where numerous important expeditions had their hopes wrecked.

Evidently there are "puddles" in the air. Some astronomers reported the "shadow bands" were entirely missing while others sighted them clearly. These bands are shadows rippling over earth during a total eclipse, ascribed to action of the atmosphere on light similar to that of water when shadows can be seen flitting across a sandy bottom.

At Portland, Maine, John O. Lunt, of the weather bureau, said he not only saw but measured the bands. They were wavy lines, one-quarter to one-half inch wide. He caught them on a slide.

This was the first eclipse to have its changing volume of light measured by a new type of photo-electric cell. In spite of the clouds, said Dr. Harlan T. Stetson, of Ohio Wesleyan University, these observations promise important means of checking measurements of the distances of the stars.

Present estimates of the almost incomprehensible size of the portions of space visible in telescopes is based largely upon measurement of rays of light coming from distant stars and from still more remote luminous bodies named simply "distant objects."

The Harvard expedition was among the "perfect seeing" groups, and its members returned to Boston enthusiastic in the belief they had a new grip on some of the mysteries of what composes the corona. They obtained this information by measuring "polarization" of coronal light in a manner which may prove how much of it is reflection from solid particles shooting off the sun's surface like popping corn.

DENTAL COLLEGE SEEKS DAMAGES

Attempt of Group To Destroy Institution Is Charged in Action.

Controversy between the faculty of the Atlanta Southern Dental College and members of the Fifth District Dental Society Thursday reached the stage of a suit for $100,000 damages filed by the college and a reiteration of claims on the part of a member of the society that the college "is operating illegally and contrary to the institution's charter."

Shortly after the suit for $100,000 was filed by the college against eight members of the society, alleging that the defendants were seeking "to injure and ultimately destroy the college," Dr. J. Frank Stainback, who said he was "speaking for the executive committee of the society," issued a statement asserting that the recent report of the committee which "brought about the suit" was "true in every respect."

Eight Members Defendants.
The eight members of the society who are being sued for $100,000 are Drs. C. C. Howard, R. D. Robinson, W. A. Clarke, Joe Eberhart, Harry T. Blodson, Frank A. Daniel, Witherspoon Wallace and Homer A. Davis.

The suit was filed by the law firm of Colquitt, Parker, Troutman & Arkwright, and, as set forth in the petition, at the order of S. W. Foster, president of the Atlanta Southern Dental College.

At the time the petition was filed seeking recovery of $100,000 damages, Judge Virgil B. Moore granted the college a temporary injunction restraining the defendants from "circulating further reports that might injure the college."

"That," said Dr. Stainback, "is why I am speaking for the society." The hearing to determine whether or not the injunction shall become permanent was set by Judge Moore for September 17.

Of the eight men sued, Drs. Howard, Eberhart, Clarke, Daniel, Blodson and Davis are members of the executive council of the society, and Drs. Robinson and Wallace were named as members of a special committee of five appointed to investigate the college, of which Drs. Daniel, Davis and Eberhart are also members.

The petition of the Atlanta Southern Dental College sets forth that the special committee recently submitted a report detrimental to the college and that it had caused the report to be circulated among some 200 members of the society throughout the state and southeast.

The suit also said the Atlanta Southern Dental College is a reorganization from the old Atlanta Dental College and that it is conducted on a high plane with a Grade A standing and that the charges as submitted by the committee "are untrue and libelous" and that they are "the result of a conspiracy to injure the good name and standing of the institution for the purpose of destroying it."

Conspiracy Charged.
Going further, the petition said the charges were the result of "a conspiracy," and that "for several months they have been repeating false, slanderous and libelous charges and statements contained in said report."

The report referred to was made several days ago by the special committee and contained six "conclusions" reached by the group.

The petition for injunction and damages filed by the college filled 14 typewritten pages of legal size paper and set forth at voluminous space many quotations from the report as submitted by the special committee.

Another point the petition brought out was that the members of the special committee procured their election to the executive council "for the purpose of destroying the college."

Dr. Stainback, who said he was speaking for the executive council, said Thursday that "the men enjoined from talking are members of a committee which faculty members of the Atlanta Southern Dental College, who are also members of the Fifth District Dental Society, voted to elect."

"Furthermore," said Dr. Stainback, "the committee was created by a unanimous vote, and records will show the committee functioned in entire accord with instructions given by the dental society."

MAYOR'S COUNSEL ADVISED COURSE

Curtin, in Letter, Told Jimmy He Had Only Two Courses.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The statement of Mayor Walker announcing his resignation was made public tonight as a reply to the recommendations of his counsel, John J. Curtin, whose letter of advice was released simultaneously.

After reviewing removal proceedings against the mayor in more than 1,000 words, which included sharp criticism of Governor Roosevelt, Curtin concluded:

"You have . . . two courses open to you."

"One is to continue to submit to the illegal and unfair proceeding before the governor in which may eventually an illegal order of removal would be void from its entry. The declaring of its void character, however, would have to await proceedings after the event with consequent delay."

"The other course is to submit your case to the people of the city of New York, who, after all, are the ones most concerned."

"Which course you should follow is for you to decide."

"The first is a temporary submission."

SIX TOBACCO MARTS TO CLOSE THIS WEEK

Marcel P. McWhorter, statistician of the state department of agriculture, said Thursday six tobacco markets would close at the end of this week and that indications are that the remainder of the markets will be closed by the end of the following week.

He said Adel, Blackshear, Hahira, Nashville, Pelham and Waycross markets would close at the end of this week and the other markets by the end of the next week, due to the short crop.

PARAGUAY REFUSES TO ACCEPT TRUCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Paraguay today refused to accept a military truce with Bolivia in the disputed Chaco wilderness region on the basis of the present position of troops.

In a note to the United States and other neutral nations working to prevent a war in South America, Paraguay said:

"We have no guarantee that the truce cannot be utilized by Bolivia to complete her mobilization and to realize her military objective which consists in overcoming our resistance and reaching the Paraguay river."

GASOLINE IS LIKE MILK....
the fresher it is—the better it is!

GASOLINE won't "keep." The older it gets—the weaker it gets. And as staleness increases—power decreases.

The "light ends" of gas—important "easy starting" elements—evaporate and a chemical change takes place—so that the longer gas is stored, the less power it gives. Too, stale gas is stickier—more apt to foul valves and carburetor. More apt to knock and thump.

The whole petroleum industry has long known these facts—has searched for a way to halt the deterioration of gasoline.

During the past several years, Gulf has worked on the problem—has finally developed a refining and distributing system that assures the motorist of getting FRESH, full-powered gasoline.

First, by giving you the best gasoline that can be made—by so refining this gas as to take out certain complex elements that cause rapid deterioration. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, by getting this FRESH-MADE, FULL-POWERED gas to you in a hurry.

The whole vast Gulf organization has been geared up to handle gas almost as a dairy handles milk. Gulf has carefully located its huge refineries in many sections of the country, so that a stream of FRESH gas can be easily kept flowing into every one of the 45,000 Gulf filling stations. Gulf tank trucks speed FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day in the year.

You pay for power. Get it—all of it. Get FRESH-MADE gas—delivered FRESH. Get Gulf. Use it exclusively. Your motor will be cleaner, quieter, faster.

Other speakers on the program included Colonel R. W. Soper, medical officer in charge of the hospital; Jesse Farr, state commander of Disabled American Veterans; Scott Candler, of Decatur, state commander of the American Legion; M. A. The clinical building cost $400,000. In an interview after his arrival here, Senator George predicted "the democratic ticket will win in November because the people of the United States will not be misled by any stimulus to business coming two years after it should." He said he expected to make campaign speeches for the ticket "in a number of states—probably in Kentucky, where I hope I may be of some aid to my friend, Senator Barkley, in Maryland, where I hope to help Senator Tydings; in New York, where I hope to help Senator Wagner, my friends and colleagues in the senate, as well as trying to help the presidential and vice presidential candidates of the party."

ALBANY SETS RECORD ON INFANT MORTALITY

ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Albany, long noted for its excellent fire prevention record, now makes a claim in another field—a low infant mortality rate.

The chamber of commerce says figures for the year 1931 on 892 cities in the country give Albany a high rating—the best in Georgia, and one of the lowest in the south.

Albany's infant mortality rate for 1931 was only 43 per 1,000, as compared with the average rate of 61.2 per 1,000. Only two cities in the south had a better rate than Albany, Shelby, N. C., and Kingsport, Tenn.

The record of infant deaths in other cities of Georgia included: Athens, 84; Atlanta, 88; Augusta, 116; Brunswick, 75; Columbus, 97; Decatur, 90; Griffin, 77; LaGrange, 74; Macon, 63; Rome, 109; Savannah, 85; Thomasville, 100; Valdosta, 102; Waycross, 72.

Agricultural Extension Service Makes Wide Changes in Personnel

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 1.—All supervising agents and specialists of the state's agricultural extension service were transferred to Athens by J. Phil Campbell, director of the department, in an order effective September 1. These transfers were in line with several changes in personnel and location which are being made at this time as the department initiates several new projects in various sections of the state.

The district agents and specialists who were transferred to Athens are: L. L. Asbury, Augusta; W. S. Brown, Savannah; A. Johnson, Macon; L. I. Skinner, Experiment; Miss Rosa McGee, Macon; Miss Lulu Edwards, Augusta; Miss Lucille Turner, Experiment; Miss Katherine Lanier, Savannah; J. G. Liddell and W. T. Bennett, Griffin.

For the next year the agricultural extension service will do special work in the marketing and utilization of foods and to this end Miss Katherine Lanier was appointed state leader. Miss L. Eberhardt, Miss Lulu Blitch, Mrs. M. E. Whitehurst and Miss Cornelia Daniels have been appointed to give their full time to the development of this project.

Placements of the special workers in marketing and utilization of farm products were: L. E. Farmer, Atlanta; L. W. Fanning and Miss Cornelia Daniels, Macon; J. B. McGee and Miss Lulu Blitch, Augusta; O. E. Hughes and Mrs. M. E. Whitehurst, Savannah; F. C. Ward and Miss L. Eberhardt, Columbus.

The above named specialists were assigned to the five largest consuming centers of the state where 50 per cent of the farm surpluses are consumed.

Another of the projects which will be emphasized during the coming year is a program of regional development which includes special attention to the farm abandoned areas in middle Georgia. J. G. Oliver will head this work and will be assisted by Francis Bowen, George Montgomery, H. E. McConnel and Leo Mercier. Zack Hubert will work with the colored workers.

The one-variety cotton demonstration will be carried forward under the leadership of E. C. Westbrook with the assistance of C. A. Johnson, federal leader, bureau of plant industry, cotton department; M. W. H. Collins and J. P. Baker.

It was pointed out that this project is going forward with great success through the co-operation of farmers, county agents and specialists. In the Orchard Hill territory in Spalding county 1,800 acres are being grown in one-variety cotton. In the Gore community, Chatham county, practically all of the farmers are planting a variety of cotton of a good staple length. Other communities will be developed as rapidly as possible, it was pointed out.

Other special agents who were appointed and assigned territories are: Byron Dyer, Stillson and Ivanhoe communities in Bulloch county; J. V. Arrendale, Choctawhatchee, Union county; A. E. Gibson, regional development agent, Albany, and G. H. Martin, Milledgeville.

J. R. Ricks, state leader in animal husbandry for Georgia, has resigned to accept an appointment as director of experiment stations in Mississippi.

Fossil Whale Found In Rock at Perry, Ga.

MACON, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A large collection of fossils believed to be those of a 40-foot mylodon whale has been found at Perry and was brought to Macdonald this afternoon by Professor Leon P. Smith, of Wesleyan college.

The bones are those of an animal probably twelve or thirty million years old and offer conclusive proof, Professor Smith said, that the sea once covered this region. The bones were discovered when workmen were blasting limerock for highway construction at the Georgia Limerock Company at Perry.

COX LAUDED FOR VIEW ABOUT CO-OPERATIVES

QUITMAN, Ga., Sept. 1.—Congressman E. E. Cox was commended in a resolution adopted here today at a meeting of Brooks county farmers and members of the Georgia Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association and other co-operatives operating in this county for giving his approval to the co-operative marketing movement, in a statement made at New Orleans last week at the conclusion of the hearings of the Shannon committee, which committee is investigating governmental activities in business.

The adoption of the resolution followed an address by J. E. Conwell, president of the cotton co-operatives in this state, in which he reviewed its operations during the handling of the 1931 cotton of members. Mr. Conwell told how association expenses had been reduced to the low point they were on 1931 cotton, being only 32 points for salaries, storage, interest charges, etc., for the whole season. He stated that the association budget as adopted for the 1932-33 season would enable the organization to perform services for its members on at least as good a basis.

The position adopted by the Brooks county farmers was presented by W. A. Walker, representative in the general assembly from this county, and was signed by himself, R. L. Sellers and J. A. Pope, prominent Brooks county citizens.

Judge Cox, who conducted the hearings of the Shannon committee, said: "The hearing has convinced me that there is a field in which both the co-operatives and private trade can legitimately and profitably operate. The board and co-operatives have undoubtedly made mistakes. This was expected. But all that is necessary for the rectitude of public confidence and support is for the co-operatives to clean up the bad spots that exist throughout the country, readjust salaries, etc., and for the board to be more businesslike in the administration of the agricultural marketing act. The co-operative movement is bound to spread and it will spread because of the unquestioned value of the services that the co-operatives can render."

Indigestion and Weak, Thin Blood Soon Yield To Yeast, Iron, Copper

The influence of Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, iron and copper is three-fold:
It promotes abundant rich, red blood strength.
It aids the system to throw off accumulated impurities.
It strengthens nerves and digestion.

Weak, thin blood and nervous indigestion take a fearful toll in human health and suffering. They sap the strength, wreck the nerves, shrivel body tissue, and bring on mental and physical exhaustion. Victims of these pernicious conditions need a general building up of blood and nerves and a strengthening of digestion.

Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, iron and copper often cures indigestion in a few days that formerly required weeks of old-time treatment. It promotes an increase in the vital Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTER FOR NAVAL STORES

Prominent Operator Predicts Improvement in Turpentine Market.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A brighter outlook for the naval stores industry is reported by Dr. C. C. Giddens, well-known Valdosta-timber owner and naval stores operator.

"The price has stabilized somewhat and I believe that this is an indication that the market will improve," he said. "It would not surprise me if turpentine is bringing 45 cents before the end of the year."

"The crop this year is at least 30 per cent shorter than that of 1931 and this is having some influence on the price. The surplus stocks of turpentine at the present are also being cut down and this will increase the demand."

He also reported that the demand for lumber, especially in the lower grades, has been slightly strengthened recently.

Ayers, vice president; Mrs. Fred Stowe, second vice president; Mrs. Claude Blackmon, treasurer; Mrs. Clyde Edwards, auditor; Mrs. Howard White, secretary; Mrs. Mary Jarrett White, chairman of the Toccoa district; Mrs. Pope Yaw, chairman of the Toccoa district; Mrs. Ben Farmer, chairman of the Toccoa district; Mrs. R.
